Project Manager

PoliLingua
(Кишинев), Сетевой маркетинг

My role is really important to the overall operations of any company. Successful projects are equally attributed to the on-site and off-site team. Working away from the site and tackling all the roles and responsibilities surrounding the project management team is essential in the overall efficiency and productivity of the on-site team. I pave the way for effective day-to-day tasks as they plan and schedule ahead of the actual work done. Project management tasks usually deal with resource allocation, workforce scheduling, and dealing with project dependencies.
