An experienced designer with international experience, including working with a variety of clients. An expert in Figma, specializing in UI/UX design and prototyping for websites and applications. My skills include adapting to mobile devices and tablets. In companies, she studied the theory of color to attract the attention of customers, implemented motion design, created intuitive personal accounts, blocks for promotions and informative pages. My approach is aimed at creating attractive and functional user paths, reflecting attention to detail and customer satisfaction.
